703 Texas Education Agency 2026-27 LAR Administrator's Statement

The state of Texas is blessed to have the dedication and skill of our teachers and education leaders throughout the state, who work hard to improve the quality of student learning and increase student outcomes. The Texas Education Agency's (TEA or Agency) priorities remain laser-focused on ensuring a safe, supportive, and academically-rich learning environment in classrooms across Texas. These efforts reflect our collective commitment to providing every student with a robust, high-quality education that prepares them for success in an increasingly competitive world.

While we can and should celebrate where we have successes, we must also acknowledge that significant challenges remain. Despite our best efforts, the lingering effects of pandemic-induced learning disruptions continue to exacerbate disparities in student outcomes and achievement. Addressing these disparities is a responsibility that requires continued focus. The Governor, the Legislature, TEA, State Board of Education (SBOE), State Board for Educator Certification (SBEC), regional education service centers, local school systems, educators, parents, and supportive community members each play a crucial role in ensuring that all students, regardless of zip code or circumstance, have access to a high-quality education. TEA seeks to continue initiatives that deliver results for students while adding support for new efforts where early evidence shows a strong return on investment.

Given the many priorities before it, we understand the difficult task the legislature has during this next session. The steps taken over the last few years by the legislature to improve learning acceleration efforts have yielded positive results for Texas. During the 88th Legislative Session, the legislature displayed great confidence in TEA and SBOE's ability to implement strategic initiatives, such as developing and reviewing high-quality instructional materials to ensure teachers and students have access to materials that are rigorous, relevant, on grade level, and aligned with state standards. Texas must continue to build upon the path of high expectations, high-quality curriculum, high-quality instruction, and robust educator supports, in our relentless pursuit of academic growth for our students to ensure they are prepared for lives of purpose and productivity.

STATE OF TEXAS EDUCATION

At 5,531,236 during the 2023-24 school year, student enrollment numbers are at an all-time high for Texas public schools and are rebounding from enrollment declines seen during the pandemic. There are 9,054 public schools, across 1,204 school systems employing over 777,000 people. While enrollment in Texas public schools has increased by more than 51% over the last 30 years, since 2019-20 enrollment has only increased by 0.7%.

Public Education in Texas is notably diverse. Texas students are 53% Hispanic, 25% White, 13% African American, 5% Asian, 3% multiracial, 0.3% Native American, and 0.2% Pacific Islander. The proportion of school-aged children who are economically disadvantaged is 62%. More than 1.3 million Texas students are identified as emergent bilingual students, whose first language is something other than English.

Student outcomes in Texas saw mixed results from 2023 to 2024. The four-year high school graduation rate remained unchanged at its all-time high of 90%. Rates of college readiness among the graduating class of 2023 were up slightly from 36.5% to 36.8%. Rates of career readiness among the graduating class of 2023 were also up from 17.1% to 18.6%. In grades 3-10 reading language arts and grades 8 and 11 social studies, performance was effectively flat, with some grade levels demonstrating slight improvement and others showing slight declines. Grades 3-9 mathematics and grades 3, 8, and 9 science performance declined. The decrease in math proficiency is indicative of the significant challenges that persist for students following the pandemic. Student performance in math has not recovered to pre-pandemic levels, making it clear that recovery will require a focused and sustained effort to improve student outcomes. Besides providing a barometer of statewide student performance, individual student STAAR report cards are also available for all parents. Parents in Texas have incredibly transparent access to every STAAR question and their individual child's answer, and more than 1 million have reviewed their own student's STAAR results by visiting TexasAssessment.gov, which also includes specific recommendations as to how parents can support their child's academic growth.

Ensuring that educators and parents have access to this underlying academic performance information – graduation rates, college, career, and military readiness (CCMR) rates, and various STAAR scores – is important to help Texas students. But it is equally critical to put those results into context, so parents and school system leaders can understand how well our schools are performing and can take action so our students can see even more academic growth in the next year. This is why the legislature has wisely adopted the A-F rating system as a matter of public policy. TEA has implemented that system to ensure campuses are fairly evaluated on multiple measures, accounting for both academic growth and proficiency of all students, as well as how well gaps are being closed among student groups. From 2017 through 2022, the underlying A-F methodology was largely unchanged, to allow for clear year-over-year performance comparisons. The methodology was refreshed in 2023 to incorporate feedback accumulated during the previous five years and to ensure we have established appropriate goals for students. Given the ongoing policy objective of allowing for clear year-over-year performance comparisons, this new methodology will remain largely unchanged for several years moving forward, and transitional what-if ratings were also prepared between 2022 and 2023 to allow for comparisons. Unfortunately, school system leaders, parents, and the public have been denied access to this performance information for the last two years due to misguided and groundless lawsuits filed by a subset of independent school districts. The legislature should consider ways in which they can put an end to lawsuits that prohibit parents, educators, and the public from knowing how well their schools are performing.

With regard to funding, I want to thank the 88th Texas Legislature for prioritizing investments in K-12 education. Per year funding for public education is estimated to see an increase of $4.3 billion for the 2023-24 SY from the year before, inclusive of a nearly $6 billion increase in state-level sources of funds more than offsetting a $2 billion reduction in local property taxes. Pending reconciliation from actual financial reports available by March 2025, the increase in funding sees state and local foundation school program funding per enrolled student in membership rise to $11,952 in the 2023-24 SY, up from $11,196 the year before, both of which were all time highs for the state. While federal funding has been inconsistent, the legislature has remained disciplined and steadfast in its continued support of public education. I am grateful for the wise policymakers elected to serve the students and taxpayers of Texas. As we look ahead, I am cognizant of some of the recommendations that remain unaddressed from the Texas Commission on Special Education Funding, the Texas Commission on Virtual Education, and the Teacher Vacancy Taskforce, and look forward to discussing these and other policy recommendations that show promise in improving student outcomes.

POLICY LANDSCAPE

As described above, in 2023, TEA refreshed the methods and indicators used to calculate A–F academic accountability ratings for campuses. The A–F system (HB 22, 85th) was established for the purpose of continuously improving student performance toward the goals of eliminating achievement gaps based on race, ethnicity, and socioeconomic status and ensuring the state is a national leader in preparing students for postsecondary success. Prior to HB 22, statute required the commissioner to adjust methods and indicators in the public school accountability system “annually.” HB 22 changed that framework to “periodically,” but still required that annually, the commissioner ensure the goals of the accountability system are being met. At the time of HB 22’s passage in 2017, it was widely understood that the statutory shift to “periodic” meant that the commissioner would wait roughly five years before updating the methods and indicators of the A-F system. Leading up to 2022-23 school year, the commissioner determined that the statutory goals of the accountability system required an increase in one key indicator for high schools – CCMR cut scores – in order to accomplish the goals of the accountability system, and that coincided with the timeline that was understood at the time of HB 22’s passage for when a refresh of A-F methods and indicators should be made. After roughly 24 months of extensive stakeholder engagement to identify and then communicate changes to methods and indicators, the rulemaking process was conducted to formally adopt the refreshed A-F methods and indicators prior to the issuance of 2023 ratings. To aid in the transition, “What If” calculations from 2022 were also made available. But several independent school districts filed suit before 2023 ratings could be issued, and a temporary injunction was granted by a Travis County district court judge. A similar lawsuit was filed by several independent school districts 3 days before ratings were to be issued in 2024, and a Travis County district court judge again ruled to prevent ratings from being issued.

HB 3906, 86th Session in 2019, modified the state assessment system known as STAAR. During the 2022-23 school year, the redesigned STAAR assessment was deployed, enhanced to better match classroom practices, with changes including a reduction in multiple choice questions and more open-ended responses. For open-ended responses, in 2024, after going through a process to independently validate evidence of the system's efficacy, TEA began using a hybrid scoring system similar to those used on many other large scale assessments including the Texas Success Initiative Assessment. The system allows the agency to maintain the highest level of accuracy in grading, shorten the length of time it takes to grade, and allow the redesigned STAAR to continue to be offered without the need for increased appropriations. HB 3906 also required TEA to begin research on a different approach to state assessment, involving multiple tests throughout the school year. Preliminary results of this have shown that a shorter end-of-year state test can be developed and deployed without a multi-year development timeframe, linked to interim assessments throughout the year used to support instructional adjustments within the year.

HB 1605, 88th Session, was a significant shift in how the state will support school systems and teachers in having access to high-quality instructional materials. The legislature authorized the SBOE to set up a very robust review and approval process designed to identify high-quality instructional material. The TEA and the SBOE have worked diligently to establish a quality Instructional Materials Review and Approval (IMRA) process and launched the first round of annual reviews under this new process. School systems have been given additional formula funds, above and beyond funding provided by the Instructional Materials and Technology Allotment, to purchase materials that are designated as high quality by the SBOE at the culmination of these annual IMRA processes. The TEA was also directed to develop a set of state-owned instructional materials to be submitted to this IMRA process to ensure it is high quality and so that it can be an option for school systems. These materials are required to be Open Education Resources (OER), meaning they must be able to be edited by the state over time and must be free for anyone to download and print on their own. Additional formula funding has also been provided to school systems to help cover their printing costs. TEA has developed an initial set of OER materials in K-5 reading language arts and K-9 mathematics and has submitted them to the SBOE for review through the IMRA 2024 process.

The 88th Legislature continued their work on school safety with the passage of HB 3. HB 3 was a comprehensive school safety bill designed to ensure school systems are able to consistently implement evidence-based safety practices. The bill created the Office of School Safety and Security within TEA, a division consisting of individuals with substantial expertise in school or law enforcement safety and security operations charged with the monitoring of school district safety and security requirements and providing technical assistance to school districts to support the implementation and operation of those requirements. Overseen by the Office and using a rubric developed in collaboration with the Texas School Safety Center, school safety review teams were established in each region of the state. These teams annually conduct on-site general intruder detection audits of school district campuses in the team's region and provide technical support to districts and charters regarding school safety improvements.

Through the Governor's Tri-Agency Workforce Initiative, TEA is working with the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board, the Texas Workforce Commission, and other partners to collaborate on strategies to improve outcomes for K-12 students: 60% of Texans ages 25-64 will have a degree, certificate, or other post-secondary credential of value by 2030; employers will have the qualified workers needed, all Texans have access to information, education, and training necessary to identify and pursue pathways to employment in high-demand occupations; strengthen and expand coordination within the state's mixed-delivery early childhood education system to facilitate increased access to high-quality education for young children to support kindergarten readiness; increase percentages of students meeting achievement benchmarks; ensure that 550,000 students complete postsecondary credentials of value each year; identify gaps in agencies' data collections and develop a plan to address any such gaps, including recommendations of statutory changes needed to do so; design an integrated educational and workforce data infrastructure with a shared data governance policy; create publicly available and user-friendly data dashboards that report education and workforce outcomes data aligned to Tri-Agency priorities and disaggregated by income, race, ethnicity, gender, and region; establish integrated project management tools and processes for Tri-Agency shared initiatives; and develop a plan for the creation of a state credential library and the development and implementation of a shared process through which credentials of value, including industry-based certifications, are defined, identified, and promoted across the agencies.

While student enrollment has recovered to pre-COVID levels, growth in new students is remaining flat. We are continuing to employ more teachers than ever before, with a total of 384,408 teachers employed during the 2023-2024 school year. Teacher attrition is beginning to decline, but it is still significantly higher than pre-COVID levels at 12.2%. Also, an increasing number of newly hired teachers are under-prepared or have no certification. Thirty-four percent of newly hired teachers in the 2023-2024 school year were not certified, a significant increase relative to prior trends, only 13% in the 2019-2020 SY. This trend is likely to contribute to increased teacher attrition and lower student outcomes. Under Governor Abbott's leadership, TEA convened a Teacher Vacancy Task Force to analyze this situation and in March of 2023, the Task Force published a report with recommendations focused on support for teachers in teacher compensation, providing more effective training and support, and improving working conditions. The 88th Legislature addressed increasing support for teachers and improving working conditions through the passage of HB 1605, which provides more teachers with access to and training on high-quality instructional materials. However, many of the Task Force's recommendations remain unaddressed.

The 88th Legislature also considered the Special Education Funding Commission's recommendations including transitioning from an instructional arrangement-based funding model to a service intensity-based model, which would more accurately and efficiently target state dollars to the students with the highest needs. Other recommendations included increasing the reimbursement rate per mile for special education transportation, providing a cost offset for initial special education evaluations, and offering start-up and ongoing maintenance costs for day placement programs in an effort to support districts' efforts to provide a full continuum of services to students with disabilities. The data continues to confirm that the expenses incurred by districts statewide for students receiving special education and related services consistently exceed the combined total of federal and state revenue sources that they receive for those populations of students.

Finally, of note for its impact on appropriations, certain provisions from HB 3 (86R), the major school finance legislation of 2019, will continue to drive increases in public education spending. In particular, school systems are increasingly accessing the optional Teacher Incentive Allotment (TIA) as a way to designate and reward their highest-performing teachers. Five hundred and ninety seven school systems currently participate, and applications from more than 100 more districts are in process. Designated teachers, on average, generated an allotment for additional compensation of $11,700 from the TIA. Funding levels within the Foundation School Program associated with TIA have just passed $290M per year and are on pace to reach $1B per year within 4 years. Similarly, the tier 2 golden penny yield was indexed to an inflationary measure, specifically the 96th percentile of property value wealth per ADA. As property values continue to rise, funding flows within tier 2 will rise along with it. This represented an increase in funding of roughly $1.2B in the 2023-24 school year.

STATE OF THE TEXAS EDUCATION AGENCY

Over two years ago, in the spirit of continuous improvement and to align with investments made to offset the impact of COVID on education in Texas, TEA revised and relaunched the strategic plan originally adopted in 2016. The current strategic plan maintains our focus on four strategic priorities that continue to have the greatest impact on academic achievement and student success. Each of these strategic priorities are linked to top line goals for the agency.

1. Recruiting, supporting, and retaining teachers and principals
2. Building a foundation for reading and math
3. Connecting high school to career and college
4. Improving low-performing schools

TEA's strategic plan is ambitious and focused. TEA identified 27 strategic initiatives that include District Leadership Supports, Strategic Compensation (TIA), High-Quality Instructional Materials, and Performance Data Systems. These initiatives are organized around six key actions derived from core beliefs that drive our work: supported educators, ready students, rigorous engagement, aligned systems, actionable goalsetting, and continuous improvement. Performance monitoring to deliver the strategic plan is a weekly practice, initiated to develop teams that could execute with strategic discipline. We have continued to refine and align an internal system of performance management that incorporates project management and change management with talent management practices that ensure that we identify, recruit, develop, retain, and reward the highest performing staff. These foundational mindsets and practices deliver significant dividends in our ability to carry out legislative priorities and impact our internal TEA operations. TEA's most recent annual analysis of employee satisfaction and efficacy reached an all-time high for the Agency, rivaling high performing private sector organizations.

We must ensure we have a talented, performance-focused team at TEA, because our students need us to be the best we can be. We are appreciative of the recent state-wide salary increases, and we have seen a measurable impact on employee satisfaction. Our most recent Survey of Employee Engagement data shows a 21-point increase from FY24 around the "Pay" construct. Keeping and retaining our talent is critical to being able to continue executing legislative policies and priorities, and we are grateful for this show of support from the legislature.

EXCEPTIONAL ITEM REQUESTS

1) Complaints & Misconduct Investigations: The agency receives and reviews matters related to potential statutory violations in public schools. These include educator and staff misconduct reports, complaints about special education, academic integrity reports, contract abandonment disputes, and general complaints about compliance with other education laws including official misconduct and governance violations. Educator and staff misconduct matters include reviews of recent arrests and criminal convictions, reports of potential abuse including but not limited to grooming behavior that could lead to inappropriate sexual contacts or drug use, and reports of fraud or other possible educator or staff misconduct in need of investigation. Any of these matters have the potential to lead to sanctions up to and including permanent revocation and/or placement of an individual on the do not hire registry. There have been on average 11,789 educator and staff misconduct matters per year since 2019, with more than 12,500 during the 2022-23 school year. TEA has 31 team members involved in educator and staff misconduct investigators and enforcement, ranging from senior investigators, attorneys, junior investigators, and fingerprint and misconduct report processing analysts. This critical team is funded by teacher certification fees. However, there has been a significant decline in the number of individuals gaining a teacher certification, reducing the budget for this investigative team by $4.6M per year. To avoid eliminating this investigative team, TEA will need an equivalent increase in general revenue devoted to its administrative budget to cover the decline in certification fees. Moreover, the volume of general complaints related to potential statutory violations has ballooned in recent years, growing from 1265 in FY 2019 to 2595 in FY 2023. TEA conducts a preliminary evaluation to triage each matter, determining where to devote more significant special investigative resources vs where to conduct more minor compliance reviews vs where to use discretionary authority to close a matter with no compliance review. The growth in overall volume of complaints and investigative requirements has caused a significant increase in the number of matters that are closed with no compliance review. Specifically, this discretionary closure general complaints has grown from 68 in FY 2019 to 238 in FY 2023, and fully 1628 of FY 2023 educator misconduct matters were subject to discretionary closure. To ensure appropriate oversight to reduce the likelihood of harmful statutory violations in our schools, TEA requests an additional $3.5M per year to expand the overall investigative team by 28 FTEs and $1.4M in the biennium to maintain a case management software system to handle the growing volume of complaints. In total, this represents $17.7M for the biennium.

2) Special Education: As noted above, the legislature convened the Special Education Funding Commission in 2022 to evaluate and offer recommendations related to the structure of special education funding mechanisms. The Commission's recommendations would significantly improve how special education funding is targeted, so that it better matches the specific and varied costs of delivering special education services. Statute would be necessary to restructure the funding mechanisms for special education, but additional appropriations to accompany those structural changes will also alleviate mismatches school systems experience between legally required costs and revenue to support those costs.

3) Educator Preparation: The Teacher Vacancy Task force identified training and support as a critical area in need of attention, especially for those entering the teaching profession. The recommendations focused on improving initial teacher preparation, including work related to the teaching pipeline and preservice preparation programs. The recommendations also talked about the need to expand existing investments in new teacher mentoring. As noted above, this need has taken on heightened importance for policymakers and appropriators given the significant increase in the number of uncertified teachers entering the profession, and the data showing vast inconsistencies in student outcomes of first year uncertified teachers and lower retention rates for teachers who enter the profession from certain preparation pathways.

4) Strategic Teacher Compensation: As noted above Governor Abbott asked TEA to convene the Teacher Vacancy Task force in 2022 to identify policies and practices that can help improve the strength of the teaching profession in Texas. The taskforce identified three key areas of focus. One of them involved compensation. While average teacher pay in Texas has grown markedly, reaching roughly $62.5k in the 2023-24 school year, teacher compensation still remains structured in a way that is quite flat – the typical teacher receives a very small raise each year, regardless of performance or duty area. The Task Force recommended increases in overall and strategic compensation practices, enhancements to total compensation packages, and the implementation of more targeted incentives for hard-to-staff areas. Each of these changes would be led at the local level, but state statute and appropriations could provide meaningful support to assist local school systems in implementing these recommendations wisely.

5) Windham School District: Windham School District was authorized by the Texas Legislature in 1969 to provide academic, life skills and career and technical education (CTE) to eligible students within the Texas Department of Criminal Justice (TDCJ). Windham is requesting an exceptional item to continue funding the expansion of new campuses serving additional students. The expansion includes 86 additional staff full-time equivalent positions including 49 teachers to provide academic, life skills and CTE classroom instruction. Expansion to the 11 campuses provides 1,080,374 contact hours per year to 5,739 students. The total request for Windham is $17.7 million for the biennium.

EXEMPT POSITIONS

TEA is not asking for any additional exempt positions.

CONCLUSION

Looking ahead, we must remain steadfast in our commitment to improving student outcomes and ensure that all students receive the high-quality education they deserve. TEA is working diligently to support public education in the state by executing the legislature's policy framework. Hundreds of thousands of teachers and principals across Texas are working tenaciously to provide students with the best education possible. Together, we can forge a path toward a more resilient and successful education system that serves the needs of all Texans.

I look forward to working closely with you to continue advancing our shared goals and to build a brighter future for the students of Texas .

Every child. Every classroom. Every day.

STRATEGY DESCRIPTION AND JUSTIFICATION:

Chapter 48 of the Texas Education Code (TEC) dictates how the Texas Education Agency determines formula allocations and local revenues in excess of entitlement for the Foundation School Program. Key driving factors include the number of students in average daily attendance, property values and tax rates, and district and student characteristics. Significant increases in local tax rate compression and a $60,000 increase in the state-mandated homestead exemption as well as a requirement to provide special education services to all dyslexic students passed during the 88th legislative sessions resulted in a significant increase in state funding from previous levels the 2024-2025 biennium and this will continue for 2026-2027 biennium.

TEA follows statutory formulas in calculating allocations and disburses or collects funds accordingly. Allocations and payments are constantly monitored to ensure that all school districts are receiving the correct amount of state aid. Chapter 49 of the TEC prescribes the options for local revenues levels in excess of entitlement. Together, these efforts contribute to the state's goals for public school education; the agency's goal of program leadership, guidance, and resources; and the state benchmarks pertaining to increasing the high school graduation rate.

Factors that may affect this strategy are tied to the number of districts able to receive funds under the program and include local tax effort, student counts, and district property wealth. Internally, the agency's ability to support the administration of a school finance system will depend on adequate staffing and technological support in the applicable areas.

Chapter 46 of the Texas Education Code (TEC) establishes a state Instructional Facilities Allotment (IFA) and a state Existing Debt Allotment (EDA) program. These programs provide equalized funding for school facilities. Two additional provisions include a $60 million allocation for charter school facilities and additional state aid to replace local revenue lost due to increases in the state-mandated homestead exemption. TEC directs the agency to determine the amount of money to which each school district is entitled. These programs coordinate with the state's goals for public education, and the agency's goal of program leadership, guidance, and resources.

EXTERNAL/INTERNAL FACTORS IMPACTING STRATEGY:

Factors that may affect this strategy are tied to the number of districts able to receive funds under the program and include local tax effort, student counts, district property wealth, and the funding levels of the facilities assistance program.

STRATEGY DESCRIPTION AND JUSTIFICATION:

Chapters 29 and 30 of the Texas Education Code and the federal Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) authorize and direct state and school district programs for students with disabilities receiving special education services, students with visual impairments, and students who are deaf or hard of hearing. Activities that are undertaken in this effort promote and support sound educational practice for students with disabilities and build the capacity of the state's public education system to ensure high levels of academic performance for students with disabilities. This strategy is tied to the state's goals for public education, the agency's Strategic Plan for Special Education, the agency's goal of program leadership, and the state benchmark pertaining to increasing the high school graduation rate.

EXTERNAL/INTERNAL FACTORS IMPACTING STRATEGY:

Factors impacting this strategy include the number of students with disabilities, the agency's ability to provide state leadership and build the capacity of the state public education system to ensure high levels of excellence and achievement for all students, district education programs, and practices.

The Texas Education Code (TEC) authorizes a number of school improvement and support programs designed to improve student learning and meet student needs. TEC Chapter 12 provides for home rule school districts, campus charter schools, open-enrollment charter schools, and college, university, or junior college charter schools. Funding in this strategy supports technical assistance to support charter schools and school turnaround and improvement support in coordination with the education service centers (ESCs). TEC Chapter 33 authorizes developmental guidance and counseling programs for at-risk students. This strategy also includes programs such as Communities In Schools (TEC Chapter 33, Subchapter E) and 21st Century Learning Communities designed to support schools by providing supplementary academic and social services targeting students at risk of failing to advance to the next grade or of dropping out. This strategy is also tied to programs such as GEAR UP which is designed to support schools with college awareness and preparation resources. These programs offer education and services to ensure that all students achieve high levels of learning to meet the state's goals for public education. This strategy is tied to the state's goals for public education, the agency's goal of program leadership, and the state benchmarks pertaining to the high school graduation rate and the number of students served under local governance or choice options.

EXTERNAL/INTERNAL FACTORS IMPACTING STRATEGY:

Factors impacting this strategy include the number of students in need of services as compared to available funding, the level of effort by families, and the availability and effectiveness of state leadership and local programs. Other factors that may impact this strategy include the rate of participation of districts, campuses, and campus programs in these various programs; state-level support and funding; and the ability of districts and charter schools to secure non-state level support and funding, including from private foundations and local fund sources, to provide high quality academic programs.

Chapter 39 of the Texas Education Code (TEC) mandates the creation and implementation of a statewide assessment system to ensure school accountability for student performance. State statute directs the agency to adopt assessment instruments for grades 3 through 8 in reading, mathematics, social studies, and science and five end-of course assessments that can be used to meet high school graduation requirements. Chapter 39 of the TEC also establishes academic excellence indicators and a statewide accountability system based on those indicators. The statute directs the agency to review annually the performance of each district and campus and rate each district and campus based on the standards for each indicator, including college and career readiness standards. The state accountability system is tied to the statewide assessment program and contributes to reaching the state's goals for public education, the agency's goal of operational excellence, and the state benchmarks pertaining to performance on state assessments, increasing the high school graduation rate, and ensuring college, career, and military readiness of high school graduates.

EXTERNAL/INTERNAL FACTORS IMPACTING STRATEGY:

Factors that may affect this strategy include increases in student enrollment, changes in state and federal legislation related to assessment and accountability, and availability of state and federal funding to support the state assessment program and the state and federal accountability systems.

STRATEGY DESCRIPTION AND JUSTIFICATION:

Chapter 32 of the Texas Education Code (TEC) authorizes the development of a Long-Range Plan for Technology for the purpose of integrating technology into curriculum and instruction and emphasizing online learning through virtual education, electronic instructional materials, web 2.0 tools, online professional development, online diagnostic assessments, current data systems and electronic business transactions. Chapter 31 of the Texas Education Code authorizes the commissioner to provide a biennial technology and instructional materials allotment to each school district and open-enrollment charter school. Districts may purchase instructional materials, technological equipment and technology services that are essential to the learning process, or use state-developed open education resource instructional materials. TEC Chapter 30 A authorizes the Texas Virtual School Network that includes a statewide course catalog of supplemental online courses for credit toward high school graduation and full-time online learning options for public school students in grades 3 to 12. This strategy is tied to the state's goals for public education, the agency's goal of operational excellence, and the state benchmark of increasing the high school graduation rate.

EXTERNAL/INTERNAL FACTORS IMPACTING STRATEGY:

Factors impacting this strategy include the significant expense of implementing advancements in technology. Public school district and open-enrollment charter ability to have the necessary local broadband infrastructures to meet state and national internet connectivity goals can impact their ability to ensure appropriate use of technology as required by this strategy.

Chapter 37 of the Texas Education Code (TEC) addresses safe schools, student discipline, and behavior management, while Chapter 38 of the Texas Education Code requires implementation of coordinated school health programs.

The agency will provide coordination, administrative leadership, policy development, and implementation for specific state and federal requirements and programs whose emphasis is on providing opportunities for students to achieve their maximum potential by developing a systemic and coordinated multitiered support system that addresses school climate, behavioral and mental health, and wellness as well as effective student discipline programs based on Chapter 37, Subchapter A, Texas Education Code. This strategy is tied to the state's goals for public education, the agency's goal of operational excellence, and the state benchmark pertaining to the high school graduation rate.

STRATEGY DESCRIPTION AND JUSTIFICATION:

The Texas Education Code (TEC) authorizes a number of programs designed to help recruit, retain, evaluate, and support quality educators to ensure that students succeed in school and graduate prepared for college and careers. TEC Chapter 8 requires the establishment of 20 regional education service centers (ESCs), and funding in this strategy supports the core services of the ESCs. TEC Chapter 21 requires the commissioner to adopt a recommended appraisal process and criteria to appraise the performance of teachers and principals, establishes the local teacher designation systems for strategic compensation, and provides guidance for mentorship programs. This strategy is tied to the state's goals for public education, the agency's goal on instructional leadership, and the state's benchmarks pertaining to educator quality, teacher retention, and student achievement.

Factors impacting this strategy include information technology needs, federal and state funding, the state’s continued support of educator evaluation and support systems, and local funding and support for the implementation of programs related to educator leadership and quality. Other factors include the composition of the teacher workforce, specifically, the increasing number of new teachers who will require support during the induction and early years of their teaching career and the changing demographics of the student population in need of teachers with expertise in supporting students struggling with the effects of language, economic, and special needs barriers.

STRATEGY DESCRIPTION AND JUSTIFICATION:

This administrative strategy is tied to TEA's efforts to effectively carry out the provisions of the Education Code, achieve the agency's goal of operational excellence, and to surpass state benchmarks pertaining to reading and mathematics, mastery of the foundation subjects, performance on the STAAR, high school graduation rates, and others. FY24-25 amounts include transfers under Rider 24. FY26-27 amounts do not; however TEA anticipates continuing to make use of this authority.

EXTERNAL/INTERNAL FACTORS IMPACTING STRATEGY:

Factors that may impact this strategy include: (1) The agency's ability to attract individuals with the expertise needed to lead the development, implementation, and evaluation of service center, district, and campus programs and to carry out interventions or sanctions for districts and campuses requiring improvement; (2) TEA's ability to achieve effective technological support for outdated/legacy software applications, and to collect and manipulate high volumes of school district and campus performance data; and (3) the complexity in supporting and coordinating the review and approval of instructional materials by the State Board of Education (SBOE) and providing oversight for their statewide use, and implementing/evaluating professional development programs and strategies across a state as large and diverse as Texas.

STRATEGY DESCRIPTION AND JUSTIFICATION:

Chapter 21, Subchapter B, of the Texas Education Code is the enabling statute for this strategy. The State Board for Educator Certification (SBEC), is responsible for regulating and overseeing all aspects of the preparation, certification, continuing education, fingerprinting, and standards of conduct of public school educators. To meet these responsibilities and ensure that educators are qualified to serve in Texas public schools, the following major functions are performed: ensuring the quality of educators upon entry into the teaching profession through certification and the accreditation of educator preparation programs; enforcing professional standards of conduct; and promoting continuous professional development of educators. This strategy is tied to the state's goals for public education, the agency's goal of operational excellence, and the state's benchmarks pertaining to the number of teachers certified through alternative programs.

EXTERNAL/INTERNAL FACTORS IMPACTING STRATEGY:

As the student population and the Texas economy continue to grow, all districts are challenged to recruit and retain certified teachers. There is an increasing demand for effective educators who can meet high standards designed to improve student performance. These demands will require issuing credentials efficiently, ensuring high standards for preparation programs, and upholding standards of conduct of public school educators. As the number of educators increases, the demands for investigations and sanctions will continue to grow. Information technology needs also factor greatly into the success of implementing this strategy.

STRATEGY DESCRIPTION AND JUSTIFICATION:

This strategy provides central organizational support to all Texas Education Agency programs. This includes establishing and administering overall agency policy and directing and managing agency business and fiscal operations. These functions include commissioner leadership, communications, governmental relations, financial operations, payroll, human resources, internal audit and legal services. This strategy is tied to the state's goals for public education, the agency's goal of operational excellence, and the state benchmark pertaining to the high school graduation rate.

EXTERNAL/INTERNAL FACTORS IMPACTING STRATEGY:

Factors that may impact this strategy include TEA's ability to recruit and retain qualified staff in the current economic context of a tight labor market, high inflation, and the rapidly rising cost of living across Texas. Competition from public and private entities that offer higher salaries impacts numerous agency functions in this strategy, such as contracting, fiscal management, and legal services. This challenge has become particularly acute as the state's economy offers abundant, and competitive opportunities in operational support efforts.

The Office of Information Technology (IT) works closely with all agency divisions to implement innovative technology solutions in a cost-efficient manner that supports the goals and priorities of the Texas Education Agency. The Office of IT provides efficient technology solutions and stellar customer services to internal staff, 20 Educational Service Centers, and 1,200-plus public-school districts and charter schools. The Office of IT also securely collects, manages, and provides high-quality, near real-time and actionable data from the 1,200 plus school districts and charter schools. The following services are provided by IT: leadership on IT initiatives; guidance on security/policy issues; new application development/enhancements; software acquisition; technical support; assistance with technical sections of purchasing documents such as Request for Information (RFI), Request for Offers (RFO), and Request for Proposals (RFP); and oversight on the data collection process which helps to support and improve outcomes for all of Texas’s 5 million-plus students. The agency must ensure sufficient information technology services are available and hardware and software support is in place to ensure the availability of all resources and compatibility between systems. The agency is dependent on sufficient funding for new, ongoing, and recurring technology costs to successfully meet these goals.

EXTERNAL/INTERNAL FACTORS IMPACTING STRATEGY:

"Factors that may affect this strategy include: statutory changes to business/program area requirements requiring automation; shifting of the procurement model from commodities to services; implementation and upgrades of data privacy and cybersecurity initiatives; support of ongoing maintenance in the Texas Student Data System (TSDS); continued transition to a Service-Oriented Architecture (SOA) environment to allow reuse of shared components within a scalable systems architecture; continued use of business intelligence tools; continued use of electronic forms and data capture tools; and the rising cost of supporting each of TEA's existing systems.

Other factors include TEA's ability to recruit and retain qualified staff in the current economic context of a tight labor market, high inflation, and the rapidly rising cost of living in central Texas. Competition for technology talent is particularly fierce in this region and TEA continues to struggle to fill IT positions.

STRATEGY DESCRIPTION AND JUSTIFICATION:

The Texas Education Code (TEC), Section 21.048 requires that individuals pass examinations in the areas in which they seek certification. This function ensures the quality of educators upon entry into the teaching profession through development and administration of the Texas Examinations for Master Teachers (TExMaT); Texas Examinations of Educator Standards (TExES); Bilingual Target Language Proficiency Test (BTLPT); Languages other than English (LOTE) and Texas Assessment of Sign Communication (TASC) and (TASC-ASL) testing programs. Individuals typically take the TExES Pedagogy & Professional Responsibilities test and additional tests in the academic disciplines in which they seek certification while completing a program of preparation for the specific certificate(s). These tests assess the prospective educator's knowledge of academic content and teaching, including understanding of research-based pedagogy and appropriate methodologies.

EXTERNAL/INTERNAL FACTORS IMPACTING STRATEGY:

As the Texas Education Agency (TEA) and the State Board for Educator Certification (SBEC) continue to seek ways to improve educator quality, teacher certification examinations must be aligned with the Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills (TEKS) and ensure a strong foundation in content pedagogy. Additionally, as the State Board of Education engages in an ongoing process of reviewing, revising, and updating the TEKS, teacher certification exams are adjusted accordingly as a part of the test development and review of current certification exams. It is critical that newly certified Texas teachers have more than sufficient content and pedagogical knowledge and skills to teach the TEKS.

Fee appropriation adjustments from GED Fees and Guaranteed Bond Funds. Rider 23 specifies that the revenue generated by certain fee-supported programs cover, at a minimum the cost of the appropriation made to support the program, as well as the "other direct and indirect costs" associated with those functions. All fees collected in excess of the Comptroller of Public Accounts Biennial Revenue Estimate are appropriated to the Texas Education Agency. When actual and/or projected fee collections are insufficient to offset program cost, the Legislative Budget board may direct the Comptroller of Public Accounts to reduce the appropriation authority to the amount of fee revenue expected to be available. DESCRIPTION / JUSTIFICATION:

The agency receives and reviews matters related to potential statutory violations in public schools. These include educator and staff misconduct reports, special education complaints, academic integrity reports, contract abandonment disputes, and general complaints about compliance with other education laws including official misconduct and governance violations. Educator and staff misconduct matters include reviews of recent arrests and criminal convictions, reports of potential abuse including but not limited to grooming behavior that could lead to inappropriate sexual contacts or drug use, and reports of fraud or other possible educator or staff misconduct in need of investigation. Any of these matters have the potential to lead to sanctions up to and including permanent revocation and/or placement of an individual on the do not hire registry. TEA has 31 team members involved in educator and staff misconduct investigators and enforcement, ranging from senior investigators, attorneys, junior investigators, and fingerprint and misconduct report processing analysts. This critical team is funded by teacher certification fees. However, there has been a significant decline in the number of individuals gaining a teacher certification, reducing the budget for this investigative team by $4.6M per year. In order to avoid eliminating this investigative team, TEA will need an equivalent increase in general revenue devoted to its administrative budget to cover the decline in certification fees. Additionally, the fiscal note submitted to support the passage of SB1849 was not fully funded yet the implementation will require additional staff. Finally, to ensure appropriate oversight to reduce the likelihood of harmful statutory violations in our schools, TEA also requests an additional monies to expand the overall investigative team by 27 FTEs, as well as 1 FTE needed to maintain a case management software system to handle the growing volume of complaints.

EXTERNAL/INTERNAL FACTORS:

There have been on average 11,789 educator and staff misconduct matters per year since 2019, with more than 12,500 during the 2022-23 school year. The volume of general complaints related to potential statutory violations has ballooned in recent years, growing from 1265 in FY19 to 2595 in FY23. TEA conducts a preliminary evaluation to triage each matter, determining where to devote more significant special investigative resources vs where to conduct more minor compliance reviews vs where to use discretionary authority to close a matter with no compliance review. The growth in overall volume of complaints and investigative requirements has caused a significant increase in the number of matters closed with no compliance review. Specifically, this discretionary closure of general complaints has grown from 68 in FY19 to 238 in FY23, and fully 1628 of FY23 educator misconduct matters were subject to discretionary closure. Educator investigations are funded by teacher certification fees, but the number of uncertified teachers has jumped from 13% to 34% in just four years, resulting in a precipitous decline in fees that will require almost a complete elimination of the existing educator investigations team without alternative funding.

IS THIS IT COMPONENT RELATED TO A NEW OR CURRENT PROJECT?

NEW

STATUS:

LAR Planning

OUTCOMES:

To manage the year over year increase in volume of investigations, a dedicated IT solution is needed to centralize documents, assign, monitor/track, collaborate and close investigations. This platform will minimize the use of multiple applications and consolidate multiple disparate tools and systems into one platform and enhance and centralize communication and workflow management between investigators, collaborative divisions, and agency leadership resulting in increased efficiencies. Additionally, it will provide appropriate levels of security to meet federal, state, and local regulations, particularly the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) and Health Information Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA).

OUTPUTS:

It will allow agency staff to manage, assign and route cases and investigations and complete their investigations in a more efficient and therefore timely manner.

TYPE OF PROJECT

Acquisition and Refresh of Hardware and Software

ALTERNATIVE ANALYSIS

Without this resource, investigators will continue to operate in multiple antiquated, non-case related platforms to try and create efficiencies in a digital space leading to the continued increase in case resolution timelines.

DESCRIPTION / JUSTIFICATION:

House Bill (HB) 1525 (87th) created the Texas Commission on Special Education Funding (Commission) and tasked it with making legislative recommendations for special education in our public schools. Special education is funded primarily through state appropriations, with some funding support also provided by two distinct federal programs. The Commission's report, and this exceptional item, focuses on the state financial commitments.

One of the key Commission recommendations is to move from an instructional arrangement-based funding model to an intensity-based funding formula. This recommendation would improve how funding is targeted, so that it better matches the specific and varied costs of delivering special education. Statutory changes would be necessary to restructure the funding mechanisms for special education, and additional appropriations to accompany those structural changes will alleviate mismatches school systems experience between legally required costs and revenue to support those costs. This intensity-based formula should effectively account for the individualized needs of students with disabilities. The transition should include the authority and resources for TEA to collect the necessary data and to make technical adjustments within the formula during the first few implementation years to ensure state maintenance of financial support and local maintenance of effort levels are met.

Other Commission recommendations that warrant consideration are providing a cost offset for evaluations, transportation mileage reimbursement increases, funds and programs to recruit and retain special education professionals, increase the capacity to offer a full continuum of services by expanding access to nonpublic programs to provide a student an appropriate education, increase the CCMR outcomes bonus, and increasing appropriations to the SSES program.

EXTERNAL/INTERNAL FACTORS:

In its 2018 report, the Texas Commission on Public School Finance recommended, and the legislature passed, several school finance enhancements and programs to improve student success. That report indicated a need to study special education formulas to determine whether the current formulas were targeting students effectively and efficiently.

Under HB 3, the 86th Texas Legislature (2019) increased the mainstream weight from 1.1 to 1.15, which led to an approximate $100 million increase in special education funding over the biennium. SB 1716 (87th-2019) established a new program called Supplemental Special Education Services (SSES), creating a one-time per student grant of $1,500 for students receiving special education services to obtain additional services or goods to enhance their educational experience. Over the 2022-23 biennium, $60 million was appropriated, and demand exceeded the appropriated funds. The 88th Session in 2023 removed the expiration date of SSES and appropriated $63 million over the 2024-2025 biennium. TEA expects that demand will continue to surpass the appropriations allotted to this program.

When the Texas Commission on Special Education Funding analyzed the state's special education funding formulas, the commission considered whether increasing current weights would be enough to address the issues raised by stakeholders. However, after extensive investigation, the commission determined that, to more effectively and efficiently impact student outcomes, the state's funding formula must be transformed to provide for the student based on his or her individual needs. As of the 2023-2024 school year, students receiving special education and related services exceeded 775,000 students, which is a 72% increase from school year 2014-2015. The data on LEA expenditures in relation to special education continue to demonstrate that expenditures exceed the combined totals of both state and federal revenue sources.

DESCRIPTION / JUSTIFICATION:

In the 2023-24 SY, Texas public schools hired roughly 49,200 teachers with 59% in their first year in a teaching role. The preparation they were given as a teacher of record varied widely - 34% uncertified, 14% alternatively certified, 12% traditionally certified, and under 1% had gone through a residency. Analysis paints a very clear picture: certain preparation pathways lead to higher retention for teachers and higher outcomes for students. Unfortunately, the highest quality preparation pathways are small and shrinking due to lack of state funds supporting these high-quality, high-impact pathways.

A small amount of funding has supported some school districts in recruiting and engaging in pre-preparation actions with existing staff under the Grow Your Own (GYO) teacher programs, which have proven to have positive effects both on teachers and students much like higher quality teacher preparation pathways. And the state provides a small amount of funding for new teacher mentoring programs, which have also proven effective for teachers and students.

Governor Abbott convened the Teacher Vacancy Task Force to analyze all the issues impacting teacher retention, satisfaction, and recruitment. In March 2023, the Task Force made a series of recommendations, including several related to improved structural and funding support for high quality teacher preparation pathways, along with support for widespread GYO and teacher mentoring activities. Investments in these areas with statutory tools to maintain high levels of quality in their implementation will have a significant effect on teacher recruitment, preparation, satisfaction, and efficacy. Absent some policy and resource supports in this area, the trend toward lower quality preparation is likely to continue, harming both our teachers and our students.

EXTERNAL/INTERNAL FACTORS:

Teachers are the single most important in school factor impacting student outcomes. Unfortunately, not all students have access to high-quality teachers. Texas is employing more teachers than ever before, with a total of roughly 375,000 teachers. In the 2023-2024 school year nearly 50,000 new teachers were hired across the state even as student enrollment has remained flat due to COVID. But the challenges associated with the profession remain significant, with 34% of newly hired teachers lacking teacher certification. Research and data connect attrition rates to challenges related to compensation, working conditions, and training.

Texas has the largest teacher labor market and educator preparation system in the U.S., positioning the state to lead the nation in improvements in the health of the teacher workforce, better staffing models, and ultimately more effective teachers who are more likely to stay in the profession. First-year teachers serve at least half a million Texas students annually, which is roughly equivalent to the overall student population in states like Connecticut and Nevada. The students in these classrooms are more likely to be economically disadvantaged and students of color. Furthermore, these novice teachers achieve less academic growth with students than more experienced teachers. In the 2023-2024 school year, approximately 44 percent of newly hired teachers came from alternative certification programs or were not certified, and data shows that these less prepared teachers are more likely to leave the profession. In fact, based on TEA analysis of teacher retention data, if teachers prepared in alternative certification programs were retained at the same rate as teachers prepared in traditional programs, over 3,700 fewer new teachers would have been needed last year.

DESCRIPTION / JUSTIFICATION:

Governor Abbott asked TEA to convene the Teacher Vacancy Task force in 2022 to identify policies and practices that can help improve the strength of the teaching profession in Texas. The taskforce identified three key areas of focus. One of them involved compensation. While average teacher pay in Texas has grown markedly, reaching roughly $62.5k in the 2023-24 school year, teacher compensation still remains structured in a way that is quite flat – the typical teacher receives a very small raise each year, regardless of performance or duty area. The Task Force recommended increases in overall and strategic compensation practices, enhancements to total compensation packages, and the implementation of more targeted incentives for hard-to-staff areas. Each of these changes would be led at the local level, but state statute and appropriations could provide meaningful support to assist local school systems in implementing these recommendations wisely.

EXTERNAL/INTERNAL FACTORS:

Teachers are the single most important in school factor impacting student outcomes. Texas is employing more teachers than ever before, with a total of roughly 384,000 teachers during the 2023-24 school year. This increase has occurred even while total student enrollment has been largely unchanged since 2019-20. Student-to-teacher ratios have now lowered to 14.7-to-1. Average teacher pay has increased to roughly $62.5k per year. Notably, the number of teachers receiving a designation under the Teacher Incentive Allotment is growing rapidly. In 2023-24, 12,546 teachers were designated, and the state is on pace to see roughly 25,000 teachers designated in the 2024-25 school year. TIA teachers see compensation increases that range significantly based on their performance level and whether they teacher in a high needs or rural school, but TIA-designated teacher see on average an $11k annual compensation increase. TIA designated teachers experience a retention rate that is roughly 8% higher than non-designated teachers.

DESCRIPTION / JUSTIFICATION:

Windham School District was authorized by the Texas Legislature in 1969 to provide academic, life skills and career and technical education (CTE) to eligible students within the Texas Department of Criminal Justice (TDCJ). The goals of the district are defined by the Texas Education Code (§19.003). Windham is requesting an exceptional item to continue funding the expansion of new campuses serving additional students.

Since September 2023, Windham and TDCJ have operated under a partnership agreement to expand programming and allow students at 11 additional campuses, formerly staffed by privately operated prisons, to participate in Windham programs. Windham's expansion to these 11 campuses provides continuity of educational services across TDCJ units. The expansion includes 86 additional staff full-time equivalent positions including 49 teachers to provide academic, life skills and CTE classroom instruction. Expansion to the 11 campuses provides 1,080,374 contact hours per year to 5,739 students.

To biennialize the FY2024-25 salary adjustments, the request includes $3,120,167 that was appropriated outside of TEA's bill pattern and therefore is not included in the base budget. As a result of the salary increase, the contact hour rates for the 2026-27 biennium are estimated to increase, from $4.69807 to $7.03265 for academic education and from $3.87648 to $6.81653 for career and technical education.

EXTERNAL/INTERNAL FACTORS:

Normal operations are subject to be impacted by security and operational adjustments within the Texas Department of Criminal Justice. Additionally, educational models are subject to be impacted by a pandemic such as COVID-19.

PROJECT DESCRIPTION

General Information

The Texas Department of Information Resources (DIR) provides shared technology services in compliance with Texas Government Code Chapter 2054, Subchapter L, Statewide Technology Centers. DIR's Data Center Services (DCS) program provides its customers uninterrupted accessibility to data, while securing data citizens have entrusted to our customers. DCS has enabled its customers to leverage data center infrastructure and reduce State personnel allocated to IT operations so the Customers can focus on accomplishing their core missions and business functions. In addition to enhanced security of the state's IT infrastructure, DCS offers mainframe, server, network, data center operations, and bulk print/mail technology and services through a hybrid cloud model that leverages two regionally diverse state data centers and multiple cloud providers.

The DCS program serves 97 customers, including both 25 designated customers (state agencies that are legislatively mandated to use the DCS services) and 72 discretionary customers (state agency and other governmental entities who have opted to use the DCS services). DCS services are available for all Texas state agencies, colleges, and universities, and with the passage of Senate Bill 866 by the 83rd Legislature, DIR is authorized to offer data center services to local entities.

B. Assessment of Attainment of HUB Procurement Goals

Attainment:

The agency exceeded our internal goal for professional services in fiscal year 2023. The agency increased our overall spend with HUBs by $10.2 million from 2022 to 2023.

Applicability:

The agency does not have strategies or programs relating to Heavy Construction or Building Construction, as these categories are not applicable to agency operations in either fiscal year 2022 or fiscal year 2023. TEA has minimal expenditures in Special Trades. In most instances, vendor selection is made by a third party such as a property manager for leased space and the Texas Facilities Commission for the Travis Building.

Factors Affecting Attainment:

The agency continues to face challenges securing capable HUB contractors that can perform the highly specialized education related service contracts at the scale necessary to serve Texas students. The agency's largest contracts are for statewide student and educator assessments. Due to the size of the companies, the performing contractors complete most of the work with in-house staff. Subcontracting opportunities are typically limited to translation services and support with accessibility compliance. We are beginning to see greater success in HUB utilization with our instructional materials contracts for services such as translation, training, editing, and curriculum reviewing.

C. Good-Faith Efforts to Increase HUB Participation

Outreach Efforts and Mentor-Protégé Programs:

As part of its outreach efforts, TEA staff attended the Texas Department of Licensing and Regulation's (TDLR) First Annual Breaking Boundaries HUB Expo (October

HUB Program Staffing:

TEA has one full time employee dedicated to HUB, along with the oversight and support of the direct supervisor and the procurement director.

Current and Future Good-Faith Efforts:

The agency made the following good faith efforts to comply with statewide HUB procurement goals per 34 TAC 20.13 (d):

- Ensured that contract specifications reflected the agency's requirements and did not impose unreasonable or unnecessary contract requirements.
- Participated in HUB fairs throughout the year.
- Advised vendors and the business community of the agency's procurement processes and opportunities.
- Assisted Prime contractors in securing HUB vendors for subcontracting opportunities.
- Working with another agency to co-host a HUB event in FY 2025.

Required by the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA) as amended by Every Student Succeeds Act, the committee makes recommendations on technical aspects of large-scale assessments including item development, test construction, administration procedures, scoring and equating methodologies, and standard-setting workshops. The committee also provides guidance on other technical matters, such as practices not already described in the Standards for Educational and Psychological Testing and continues to provide advice and consultation on the implementation of the state assessments and meeting the federal requirements of the ESEA. TTAC's members include educational measurement technical and policy experts by invitation. The committee's two-day meetings are typically held two to four times per year in Austin, TX, and virtually as needed.

Description and Justification for Continuation/Consequences of Abolishing

Following the development of assessment items by professional item writers, Texas Educator Review Committees are responsible for reviewing the items to ensure they are appropriately aligned to the Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills, they are developed at the appropriate level of difficulty, and they do not include any potential bias. Items are revised based on committee input and then field-tested. Additionally, Texas educators participate in meetings to define the grade-specific performance level descriptors (PLDs) and to recommend the performance standards on the assessments. Committee expenses are paid by TEA's assessment vendor as part of the assessment contract.
