

Educator Resource Guide

The Texas Education Agency (TEA) in collaboration with Texas PBS has compiled the following resource links to assist educators interested in learning more about the opportunities available in the free pbslearningmedia.org platform. This collaboration is meant to benefit students who are now learning at home while schools remain closed due to the spread of novel coronavirus.

In exploring these resources, educators should:

- Review all materials to determine if they will be an appropriate fit based on student need (e.g., skill-level, available accessibility features, etc.)
- Consider which students will have access to the material when assigning work directly related to content found online. A plan may need to be developed to deliver alternative materials to students who cannot access online content due to a lack of internet connectivity.
- Confirm with district technology officers that the PBS site is accessible to students using district provided internet.

RESOURCE	DESCRIPTION
PBS Learning Media 101 (Recorded Webinar)	Sectioned overview of PBS LearningMedia
April 13 2020	features; Steps to curate your favorite resources; Deep dive into PBS LearningMedia content; Q&A
Toolkit for At Home Learning (Website)	Tools and materials specially curated for April 13 2020	parents and caregivers with school-aged children at home, as well as for educators who are teaching remotely.
Tips for Distance Learning with PBS Learning	One-hour virtual learning seminar with PBS
Media (Recorded Webinar)	master trainers and educators sharing tips
April 13 2020	and techniques to support engaging, effective, distance learning.

This document will be updated as new resources are made available. The information included in this document is provided as a resource only. This information is intended to assist in the delivery of educational resources in the midst of this public health crisis.